— The Internet kills our brain. Is it TRUE?

Nowaday, we can't imagine our lives without popular "metal boxes" — our mobile phones. People couldn't do simple things like calculating and writing essay without the help of the Internet. However, how our past generations had lived on this huge planet and had worked their brain? In this article I will explain some pros and cons of be in touch with technology.

— First of all, let's think about how much time we would spend for our lives and bodies if we ~~hadn't~~ ^{didn't} have the Internet.

Once, I had such experience and it was AMAZING! The reason is that your brain turns on lots of functions like analyzing. I had more time for reading and studying. Also I had less stress than ever. I had started sleep more.

So these changes have led more freedom. However, is this good forever?

— So let's imagine education, science and entertainment without technologies. NONSENSE! Our development would stand still. There wouldn't be most inventions as cars.

OH GOD we will move by HORSES! Incredible! Therefore, in that hand all changes and inventions are improve our world only for best.

— As far as I am concerned the Internet has more positive turns than negative. Have you heard about AI technologies?
